Remarks:

- The annual COI rate attached to the Policy may be changed but shall not exceed the maximum rate approved by the Registrar.
- Net amount at risk refers to the amount under 2.1 or 2.2, whichever is higher:
  - The amount of sum assured deducted by the accumulated withdrawal for redemption of investment units of the RP (if any), deducted by the RP after deduction of premium charge for the first month; or deducted by the redemption value of investment units of the RP for the subsequent months.
  - The Net Amount at Risk equivalent to 100% of the first year RP
- The Company reserves the right to change the rate of fees and charges, but not exceeding the maximum rate specified according to the terms and conditions of the Policy, by giving at least 1-month prior notice in writing.
- The Company shall deduct the administration fee and the COI from the premium before making investment in the first month, and shall subsequently deduct them from the auto-redemption of investment units at the redemption price proportionate to the holding of funds under the unit-linked plan. If the redemption value of investment units of any fund on the redemption date is not sufficient for the deduction of such fees, the fees that cannot be deducted are regarded as liabilities of the Policy and shall be deducted from the funds under the unit-linked plan in proportion to the redemption value of each fund in the following month.
- In the case where the sum assured is higher than 15 million Baht, a discount on the COI may be applicable according to the Company's conditions. In this regard, the Company reserves the right to cancel or change the discount rate on COI in case of any change to the Table of Annual Cost of Insurance which is in accordance with the Registrar's Notification or subject to the Registrar's approval. Accordingly, the Company shall notify the Insured of such change in writing at least fifteen (15) days in advance

- The applicant is advised to read and make thorough understanding about the information in the sales sheet before making decision to purchase the insurance. After receiving the policy, please study the details and the terms and conditions contained therein.
- The terms and conditions of the coverage are specified in the insurance policy issued to the policyholder

RIGHTS OF THE INSURED

1. The right to cancel the Policy within 15 days from the receipt date of the Policy. In this respect, the Company shall return the policy fees and the investment portion as per the redemption price deducted by a charge of 500 baht and the medical check-up fee (if any).
2. The right to surrender the Policy while the Policy is in force and has cash surrender value. The exercise of such right shall be in accordance with the conditions specified in the Policy.
3. The right to receive information about the allocation of premiums invested in the funds.
4. The right to obtain a full prospectus containing details of the mutual fund project from the agent authorized by AIA.
5. The right to receive information about the list of management companies offering management service for the unit-linked plans proposed by AIA.
6. The right to receive information about the name and address of the management company and AIA as well as the name, address, and identification number of the agent authorized by AIA.
7. The right to be informed of the risks associated with the investment units that they are advised to purchase including the warnings and explanations regarding the risks of investment in mutual fund units.
8. The right to be informed of the facts that have impacts on the privileges of the Insured or on making investment decision such as offering of investment units of the mutual fund which is under the process of merger or amalgamation, etc.
9. The right to receive information about conflicts of interests such as fees or compensation that the authorized agent of AIA receives from purchasing of insurance plan as well as from subscription or redemption of investment units, etc.
10. The right to express the intention to refuse any further contact for a period of 2 years.
11. The right of the unitholders of a unit-linked insurance plan under an omnibus account may differ from those subscribing the investment units directly from the management company on a normal basis, for instance: Rights of the Insured
  - In purchasing a unit-linked insurance plan, the subscription price of the investment units shall not be quoted on such purchasing date as the life insurance application needs to go through the underwriting process for a certain period of time after all relevant documents have been submitted. In this respect, AIA shall proceed to subscribe the investment units for the client after the policy is approved.
  - Receipt of any fund-related documents may require longer time than the case of direct dealing with the management company as AIA will deliver such documents to the clients after receiving them from the management company.
  - AIA will deduct the COI and the administration fee (please refer to the Fee Schedule) from the auto-redemption of investment units on a monthly basis.

DISCLAIMER

- The applicant is advised to study details of product information in prospectus. After receiving the policy, the insured is advised to study the terms and conditions of coverage in the policy.
- The Insured have the duty to make the premium payment. Collection of insurance premium by the agent or broker is only a facilitation service.
- The Insured should pay the premium according to the specified time schedule of the plan. Any cancellation or cessation of payment before maturity may result in loss of investment or loss of benefits.
- The Insured should take into consideration the ability to pay premium since this policy is suitable for long-term saving and involves fund withdrawal charge which may result in the surrender value and the withdrawal value being lower than the redemption value of the investment units. The Insured Persons should study the details in the Fee Schedule regarding withdrawal of fund from the Policy.
- Partial withdrawal or automatic withdrawal will cause the redemption value to decrease. This can result in the lower death benefit and the earlier policy lapse.
- A unit-linked insurance plan is not a cash deposit and involves risks. The Insured should have an understanding about the product nature, conditions of returns, and the risk structure, as well as should study, read carefully, and have thorough understanding about the information contained in the sales documents and the fund prospectus before making decision to buy the insurance and invest. The Insured may receive a return higher or lower than the amount of premium being allocated to the fund. If the fund posts a profit, the Insured shall receive a high return, but on the other hand, if the fund encounters a loss, the Insured shall get lower return or suffer investment loss in some cases. That is, the Insured may not get a full return from the investment part. In this regard, the returns on the investment part of the unit-linked plan are not guaranteed. In addition, the Insured may also receive the proceeds that is lower than the insurance premiums that had been paid in case of policy cancellation/surrendering before maturity.
- The Insured have an option to invest in the funds to fulfil their investment objective and assume the investment risks on their own. In this respect, the Insured should have a good understanding in the funds by studying the risk spectrum and the details of each fund from the respective fund prospectus.
- During the policy in force period, the Policy may terminate in any year if the redemption value of the investment units is equal to or lower than zero or the redemption value of the investment units is not sufficient for paying the policy fees.
- Mutual fund is a legal entity separate from the management company. Therefore, the life assurance company and the management company are not obligated to compensate for the losses sustained by the funds under the unit-linked insurance plans and shall not take advantage of the fund's assets for the settlement of their own debts.
- The insurance charge, fee, and the COI shall be deducted from the premiums paid by the Insured whereas the remaining amount shall be invested in the mutual funds specified by the Insured.
- If the fund chosen by the Insured is a foreign investment fund, it may not be totally hedged against foreign exchange risk which is based on the discretion of the Fund Manager. Accordingly, investment in such fund may cause the Insured to lose or gain from foreign exchanges or to receive a return that is lower than initial investment amount.
